Volunteer

Description

Are you passionate about the arts and eager to make a difference in your community? Join us at SPARC as a volunteer and help us bring creativity and inspiration to our diverse community. We are seeking enthusiastic individuals to assist with various roles, from gallery support and administrative tasks to event coordination and outreach. Your time and talents will directly contribute to enriching cultural experiences and fostering artistic expression throughout our vibrant city. If you're ready to be part of a dynamic team and help shape the future of the arts in Los Angeles, we'd love to hear from you! We have two locations to volunteer at: Venice and Santa Monica at Bergamot Station. Contact us now and become a vital part of our mission.

About SPARC

The Social and Public Art Resource Center (SPARC) was founded in 1976 on the premise that art is a site for social justice. Our mission is to produce, preserve, and promote activist and socially relevant artwork; and ultimately, to foster artistic collaborations that empower communities who face marginalization. SPARC curates gallery exhibitions and programs that promote civic dialogue, in addition to creating and preserving murals that examine the most critical social and political issues of our time.
